COLONEL'S CAMPAIGN REACHES ITS CLIMAX

In Baltimore He Heads Parade, With Red Fire and Blare of Bands as Setting, and Vigorously Attacks All Who Oppose Him.

Baltimore, May 3.—The Roosevelt campaign for Maryland's sixteen delegates to the Republican National Convention came to a climax to-night with the former President's visit to Baltimore. Colonel Roosevelt was welcomed by throngs. He was taken through the city at the head of a parade, with red fire and the blare of bands as a setting. Several thousand persons trooped along with him, and as the procession approached the Lyric Theatre, at which he delivered his principal address, the streets were choked with the crowds.

Colonel Roosevelt made three speeches, vigorously attacking his opponents, and defending himself from criticisms which have been directed against him.

"I ask you, the people of Maryland," said he, "to speak at the primaries on Monday so that the boss and the great sinister influence which lies behind the boss everywhere in the United States shall realize that there is another State where the people rule themselves."

"Our opponents always speak of us as 'the people of the Fourth of July,'" he continued, "but when we want a direct primary or something of the kind, they suffer an instant change, and we become 'the mob.'"

"This fight is just begun. Our opponents might just as well make up their minds that we are going to stay in it until we win. We are going to have direct election of United States Senators, for one thing. We may not always get the right men, but I will guarantee that we will do better than when they are selected by the bosses. And when we get direct election of United States Senators, the Senate will cease to be a house of refuge for Senators of the Lormier type."

"Our opponents do not really believe that the people can rule themselves. If you will go over Mr. Taft's speeches for the past three months, and if you will study the explanations which he has made with almost every one, you will find that he speaks of the tyranny of the majority, the necessity of keeping certain classes of officers free from popular control. I insist that the people are fit to rule themselves. In this country the tyrannical from which we have suffered is the tyranny of minorities."

As exemplifying what he meant, Colonel Roosevelt referred to the Fighting for Maryland.

Baltimore, May 3.—The people of Maryland were forcibly reminded to-day that they will be the next chance to influence the nomination of presidential candidates. The anti-primary campaign that has been gathering force since the first of the week is culminating in a burst of oratory. Three of the five candidates whose names will appear on the primary ballot were within the State to-day, and a fourth will enter it to-morrow.

The presidential primaries next Monday will be the first elections of this kind in the State. Under the law passed at the last legislative session the people will be able to express directly their preferences, and few sections of the State have lacked opportunities in the past week to see and hear the candidates.

To-night, Colonel Roosevelt spoke in Baltimore, while the supporters of Champ Clark held a big mass-meeting here, at which Mayor Preston presided, and former United States Senator Charles A. Towne, former Congressman La Follette, of New York, and Congressman Henry George, Jr., were the chief speakers. Colonel Roosevelt toured the eastern part of the State to-day, and will make a number of speeches in the country districts to-morrow.

Governor Woodrow Wilson was the only Democratic candidate of those on the primary ballot who was not in the State to-day. The New Jersey Governor made his appeal here last Monday. Governor Harmon made several speeches in the northern part of the State, and returned to Baltimore this evening, but only to take a train at 7 P. M. for Ohio.

Speaker Champ Clark made no speeches in the State, although he visited friends in Montgomery county, which adjoins the District of Columbia.

To-morrow, President Taft will enter the State right after breakfast, and wind up a day of arduous campaigning here with a speech on the same stage where Colonel Roosevelt appeared to-night.

Plans for Taft's Trip.

Washington, May 3.—Plans for President Taft's trip to Maryland to-morrow, made public at the White House to-night, indicate that his campaign through the State will be almost as busy as his recent swing through Massachusetts.

The President will spend the entire day in Maryland, leaving Washington early in the morning and not returning until midnight. He is scheduled to make seven speeches, asking the Maryland voters to support him at the presidential primaries Monday.

The schedule calls for brief talks at Hyattsville, Laurel and Aberdeen, and set speeches at Elkton, Bel Air, Havre de Grace and Baltimore. The Baltimore speech will be delivered in the Lyric Theatre to-morrow night.

South Richmond Bureau.

The Times-Dispatch, 1005 Hall Street, Phone Madison 101.

Deputy Treasurer J. W. Bronaugh, Jr., will keep his office in the Leader Building open until 5 P. M. to-day for the convenience of voters who have neglected to qualify to vote in the general election in November. Those qualifying now will be entitled to vote in the July primary for Congressman and members of the new Administrative Board.

The Southside made a remarkable gain in voting strength before the close of the last books in December, but since that time very few persons have made themselves eligible to cast a vote in the July primary for Congressman and members of the new Administrative Board.

The Southside now has about 30 voters, and the success of the primary last Tuesday shows that it holds the balance of power in Madison Ward if the people get solidly behind any proposition.

Properly Transfers Increase.

Among the papers admitted to record yesterday in the office of Clerk Walter E. Inval, of the Hastings County Court, were three deeds of bargain and sale. The most important of the transactions was the transfer of an undivided half interest of forty feet of property on Hall street between sixteenth and seventeenth by Allen Sheppard to August Stinson. The price was put at $10 and other valuable considerations.

William Todd yesterday became the owner of two pieces of property. The first, fronting ninety-two feet in Fourteenth near Everett, was purchased from John Clay Stiles, while the other, fronting eighty feet on the same street, was bought from Mary Stiles. No price other than $10 was given.

Ball Games To-Da.

Southsiders will be given an opportunity to see a good game of ball this afternoon when the Burk & Company and Jacobs & Levy cross bats on the Spring Hill diamond. The latter team is now tied for first place in the Richmond League, while the Burk & Company club is filling second place. The battery for the Southside boys will be Gentry and Livesey.

Two Independents will journey this afternoon to Oakwood, where they will meet the Broadus Memorial team. The Independents have been practicing faithfully, and are confident of putting up a stiff fight for first honors. Crockett will pitch and Blankenship will do the receiving.

Wants Money for Park.

Congressman J. R. Brown has introduced a resolution before the Street Committee asking for an appropriation of $2,000 to complete the work of improving Washington Park. The City Engineer has been authorized to advertise for bids for plowing up the park preparatory to planting grass seed. The grounds have been graded, and when covered with grass will make an ideal breathing space for the people of the Southside.

Death of Mrs. Newby.

Mrs. Mary E. Newby, sixty-one years old, wife of W. J. Newby, of 1011 Everett street, died yesterday afternoon. Her funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Ashure Methodist church. Mrs. Newby was a member of Select Council, Daughters of Liberty. She is survived by her husband and one son, A. J. Bottoms. The burial will be in Maury Cemetery.

Postpone Damage Suit.

Because of the absence of an attending witness, who was prevented from attending by sickness in his family, the personal injury suit of T. J. Bush, an infant, suing by next friend, against J. R. Cheever, was set for trial yesterday in the Hastings County Court. Part 2 was continued until May 21.

Gets License for Junk Business.

The Virginia Iron and Steel Company (Inc.), was yesterday authorized to engage in the junk metal business at 29 West Seventh street. The application was approved by the Police Board, and a license to conduct the business issued by Commissioner of Revenue R. R. Owens.

Will the Police.

Ed. Johnson, colored, thirty-seven years old, was taken into custody last night on a warrant, in which he is charged by Julia Johnson with threatening to take her with a razor. Johnson readily submitted to arrest, and when searched at the Police station was not armed. He was held to appear in the Police Court, Part 2, this morning.

Justice H. A. Maurice yesterday appeared

The jury disagreed in the case of the elder Roe, and he will be
